

Jasper Class of 2021

“I don’t have Black kids in my class. The New 3Rs - we are diverse. I learned how Black people are judged. If I did the same thing nobody would think anything of it. It has been a powerful message to me what it’s like to be a Black kid in America.”

Shiloh Class of 2021

“Teaching Black History in school is like drinking Black coffee. Some people don’t like the bitterness of Black coffee, so they add milk to dilute it. Then they add sugar to make it sweet. It’s no longer Black coffee. The New 3Rs teaches the truth—the bitter and the sweet.”

Tristan Class of 2021

“I am not Black, but I know Black Lives Matter, especially Black women! In The New 3Rs I learn the great things women have done for America. We should be thanking Black women, not hating them.”

Reagan Class of 2021

“It’s not history if you are not learning the truth. The New 3Rs teaches the truth.”

Esme Class of 2021

“Majority of teachers are not Woke.
How can they teach Black History?
It’s time for them get comfortable with being uncomfortable.”

Sunay Class of 2021

“The New 3Rs is a large beacon of hope for the US. First, we have to learn how it feels to be the victim of racism before we find a solution. I am learning Black History in the USA, Latin America, everywhere. It’s opening my mind! Because of The New 3Rs I can empathize more with Black people. I can truly become part of the anti-racism fight in my school and community, with my friends and my family.”

Esther Class of 2021

“The New 3Rs is a place you can feel safe, and others can too.”
